OFSTED

A huge thank you to staff, pupils and parents for your support over the past few days. The school have received their outcome but are currently unable to share this until the report is released. The report is likely to be available to parents within 30 school days. What I can say, is that the pupils were great ambassadors to our school, showcasing everything that we do and made us all very proud. Thank you parents for your contribution with the surveys too - we are unable to see these but, from the response of Mr Morgan, I believe that they were very supportive to our school and community. As always, your ongoing support is much appreciated.

Congratulations Darcy, Grace, Jack & Louis for your achievements at the Wrekin Maths challenge last week. A very competitive (but fun) day where Clee Hill came 21st and 27th out of 59 teams - which is excellent for such a small school.

Bonkers for Conkers!

The Regal Community Theatre presents

Baking of Bread

By Jeremy Boaz

12-14th October 2023

*'I noticed him, the squire,
sitting on his horse,
watching me walking the lane - scary he was'*

A couple of our students are taking part in the Regal Community Theatre in Tenbury's production of 'Baking of Bread'. Details below!

Set in a rural Cotswold parish during the reign of William IV, 'Baking of Bread' is a dramatic period piece. The story finds our heroine, Annie Stamps, forced to move in with her sister and injured brother-in-law and their starving children. When the tyrannical Squire beats her nephew for stealing a dead rabbit, Annie swears revenge. The Squire forces Annie into working for him, baking his bread, whilst she seeks opportunities to avenge her nephew. As the play progresses, Annie discovers that her plans do not run as smoothly as she had expected, culminating in a dramatic and surprising conclusion to the play.

Written by our in-house playwright, Jeremy Boaz, this promises to be an engaging, dramatic evening's entertainment in the intimate setting of the Regal Studio Theatre.

Saturday 14 October at 2.30pm & 7.30pm
